OSTEOPATHY AT HOME

FROM "LIFE" MAGAZINE

"Life," February 17, 1916: Something unusually drastic and effective will have to be done to the osteopaths if they continue to cure people after the regular physicians have given them up. For the first offense there could be a moderate fine; if the offense is repeated, the fine could be doubled and a term of imprisonment added. The license could also be taken away and the wicked and reprehensible osteopath would thus not be permitted to practise any more; for it is quite obvious that if osteopaths continue to cure people, the regular medical profession, which now controls the laws and the liberties of the majority, might eventually have to go out of business.

Hay Fever, Catarrhal Deafness, ear, nose and throat troubles are now being cured without knife surgery; this includes tonsils, adenoids, etc., etc. Below are articles from Dr. J. Deason, M.S.D.O., of the A. T. Still Osteopathic Research Institute, Chicago; Dr. John F. Bailey, chief of the Free Osteopathic Clinic, Philadelphia, and Dr. James D. Edwards, of St. Louis, who treated over 100 cases of Hay Fever alone last summer. Dr. Deason, of the Osteopathic Research Institute, says:-

Chronic Catarrhal conditions of the nose and throat often lead to Catarrhal Deafness. In about 75 per cent. of Catarrhal Deafness the soft-palate is thickened and elevated into the Naso-pharynx, this elevation obstructs the opening of the Eustachian Tube and leads finally to adhesions of the mucous folds about and within the tube, weakening and causing a collapse of the opening of the tube. These cases are usually treated by specialists by catheterization and polarization and have but little temporary effect. We have cured between 75 per cent. and 95 per cent. of these cases by breaking up with the finger the adhesions in Rosenmüller's fossae and the opening of the Eustachian Tube; a great number of these cases have not only reported complete cure or part restoration to normal, but have reported that their Catarrhal eyes have been much improved by the treatment.

Among other evidence of the bounty of nature is that we have in early life double the amount of hearing necessary for ordinary purposes of social communion; and it is therefore possible to lose one-half of the auditory function before becoming conscious of the loss. Under these conditions it is readily seen that a chronic progressive disease impairing the hearing may become fairly established before the condition is discovered. The auditory apparatus of every individual should be examined at least twice a year.

Dr. James D. Edwards, of St. Louis, who treated over 100 cases of Hay Fever alone last summer, says that 95 per cent. of Hay Fever and Catarrhal Deafness are supported by constitutional symptoms. In Europe they now treat Catarrhal Deafness and Tinnitus Aurum as a constitutional disturbance and in 75 per cent. of the cases absolutely ignore the local symptoms. The American specialist still limits his attention to the local treatment of the Auditory Apparatus, which, along with vaccine and serum therapy, has long been discarded, and is ancient history in Europe. Most of the diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat are caused by lesions, in fact, we know that these irregularities, defects, and spinal lesions may cause diseased conditions of any part of the body through vaso-motor and other nerve interference.

Dr. John F. Bailey, of the Free Osteopathic Clinic, Philadelphia, got thirty of the 79 cases he treated of men, women and children to gather for an automobile ride through fields of Golden Rod, Pollen, and according to Life Magazine, only one had the temerity to sneeze. Life says, nobody in the regular medical profession would admit that this is true.

Dr. Bailey in his article says, from my own experience I am convinced that all of the cases have been brought on from constitutional troubles, and I have not found a case of Hay Fever or Catarrhal Deafness that did not have upper cervical and dorsal lesions. Dust Pollen, Golden Rod and other odors act only as secondary effects to a diseased and sensitive membrane.

Home treatment of these cases (until you can get the necessary treatment to remove the adhesions, break up the adenoid growths, if any, and the irrigation treatment to thoroughly wash out the nose and cleanse the membrane which has become diseased, and either dry or producing a nasty Catarrhal discharge) is to be careful of foods that stimulate the liver, strong tea, coffee, excess of tobacco, and cigarettes; washing out the nose and throat with a soluble saline solution twice daily, using ordinary table salt.

Having specialized as much as a busy practice would allow, we have had such satisfactory success that we are fitting up our offices with a complete outfit of Tuning Forks, Irrigation Outfit, Etc., Etc., and after taking special study will be prepared by Fair time, July 1st, to specialize in Ear, Nose and Throat troubles of Catarrhal origin and Hay Fever. All curable diseases successfully treated.

Below is part of a letter from the father of a boy who was quite deaf, and came to us for treatment:—Brant, Alberta, April 24th, 1916. Dr. M. E. Church.—Dear Sir: Enclosed please find cheque for $15.00. I am very well pleased with your treatment for my son; he can hear just as well as anybody and seems better in every way. Yours truly, H. D. Parker.

When buying Life Insurance why not combine protection with investment.

The Dominion Life Assurance Company

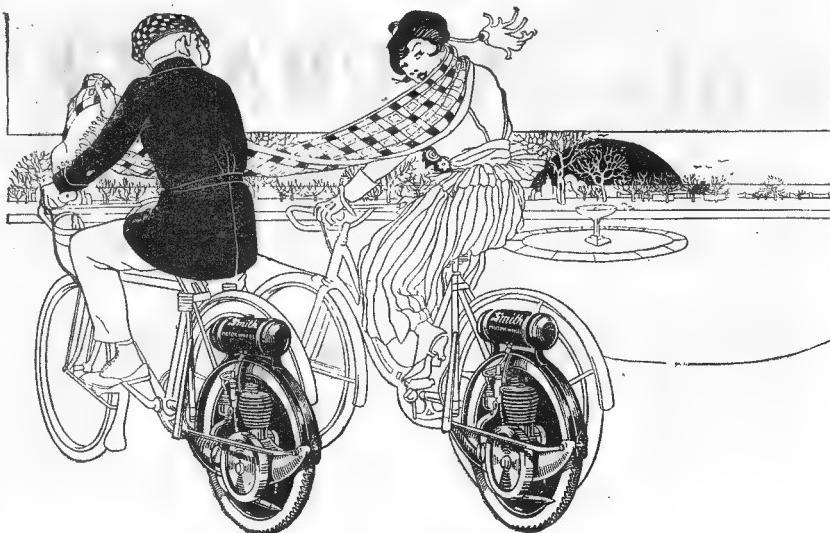

enables you to do this satisfactorily. It stands pre-eminent as a Policy holders' company; savings from a light death rate, savings in expenses and high interest earnings have meant fine returns to its policy holders. It earned 8.35 per cent. interest in 1915, as against 5½ per cent. earned by the average Life Company in Canada. FOR THE LIQUOR HABIT

What is the Neal Treatment?

A course of medical treatment which antidotes the alcoholic poison and eliminates it from the system, and in so doing destroys the craving for intoxicating liquor.

How much time does the Neal treatment for the liquor habit require?

Three to five days. In a few very unusual cases a patient has remained longer.

Does the patient suffer while under treatment?

He suffers only from the effects of excessive drinking, and much less than he would if trying to sober up without treatment.

What is the nature of the medicine administered, and is it harmful in any way? The medicine is a vegetable preparation, which contains no narcotics or injurious drugs. The treatment cannot possibly harm the patient in any way. On the contrary its effect is to improve the general health and build up the entire system.

Do you use hypodermic injections?

No. The medicine is administered through the mouth only.

Is the Neal treatment successful in every case?

Yes. The result accomplished when the full treatment is administered is the same in all cases. The craving for alcohol is removed and the patient restored to a normal condition so far as the effects of alcohol are concerned.

What is the condition of the patient when he leaves the Institute?

He is not only freed from his desire for liquor, but he is benefited in other ways. His appetite is good, nerves steady, step firm. He thinks clearly, has a bright eye and good healthy color. The treatment is not weakening — It tones up and strengthens the patient and goes far to correct the results of years of indulgence in liquor. He can return to his business immediately.

Is the patient at the Neal Institute restrained by any objectionable rules or regulations?

No. The patient is quartered in a comfortable room. He may read, smoke and receive such callers as he may feel he wants to see. He may at any time call up his office or home by telephone. His meals are served to him in his own room, by his nurse, and he can do much as he would in his own home. He is simply required to take his medicine when it is brought to him.

Does the patient suffer for the want of liquor?

No. He is given whatever liquor he desires whenever he wishes as long as he wants it.

Do you treat any other diseases or conditions, than the liquor and drug habits? No. The patient is given a thorough physical examination upon his entry for treatment, by our physician, and if for any reason he is unfit to receive treatment, he will not be accepted.

Is the Neal cure a permanent one?

Yes. A patient who has been freed of the drink habit by the Neal treatment can form the habit again if he wants to, just as a lifelong teetotaler can do. The point is, the Neal patient has no craving for liquor and if he goes back to it, he must do it wilfully. Nothing but drinking can bring on the drink craving. As a matter of fact, our patients are so glad to be free from the liquor craving that not for anything would they try to overcome their distaste for liquor (due to the Neal treatment) and learn again to drink.

Do doctors recommend the Neal?

Yes, many doctors send us patients, and all who are acquainted with our work through investigation and experience KNOW that we deserve their support and the number of doctors who recommend the Neal treatment is every day increasing.

Write, phone or call for further information.
